Inbuilt Services (Few of them)

Services	Description
$cookies	This service is useful to write, read and delete browser cookies.
$window	This service is similar to reference to the browser's window object.
$filter	This service is used for formatting data displayed to the user.
$document	This service is wrapper for the browser's window.document object.
$location	This service is similar to window.location object and exposes the current URL in the browser address bar.
$log	This service is useful to write error, info, warning and debugging into the browser's console.
$parse	This service is useful to convert AngularJS expression into a function.
$timeout	This service is just wrapper for window.setTimeout function so that it will be easy to override, remove or mocked for testing.
$interval	This service is similar to JavaScript's window.setInterval function.
$exceptionHandler	This service is useful to handle an uncaught exception in angular expressions by overriding the default exception handler behaviour.
$templateCache	This service is useful to set form within a form.
$cacheFactory	This service evaluates specified expression when the user changes the input.
$anchorScroll	This service is useful to set checkbox checked.
$rootElement	This service is useful to access root element.